

Alupurinol I do not see on the medication list.

I look at blood sampling times and order times for those running. Time with You is Tuesday, July 7, 2020 at 1 p.m. 9:20.

Granulomatosis with polyangiitis [Gp] is the cause of the kidney condition. Yes, GP is not active but in remission with and most often chronic kidney disease why GP is chronic via glomerulonephritis for high blood pressure.

You have stated I did not have SLE. How do you know that? The indications are growing towards that records from 1981 still exists. Therefore, please document Wegeners's now GP as well as me did not have SLE in 1981.

Granulomatosis with polyangiitis (GPA) is a chronic, relapsing, primary systemic small vessel vasculitis associated with anti-neutrophil cytoplasmic antibodies.
<https://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/pmc/articles/PMC5647538/>

Surely NCI is wrong when you are right?

If you continue to refuse and cannot document that I have had GP and have not had SLE, then I consider the situation from here. Answers are requested soon. Otherwise we will see you at the agreed time etc.

Niels Ulrik Reinwald

You will also be promptly requested to correct parts of the journal (s).

Smoking is guaranteed possible by the state which has a large income through tax and VAT. It should you also know nicotine is not that harmful in small doses of Parkinson's disease, Alzheimer's.

See you.